Immigration to Vermont
a paper by
Prof. John E Goodrich
of Burlington Vt
Read before the Vermont
Historical Society in Nov 10 1908

Vt Hist. Proceedings vol 1907–1910.

pg. 65–88

"was Immigration to Vermont
stimulated in the years 1760-90
by Persecution on the part of the "standing order" in Massachusetts and Connecticut.

272

pg. 85: Probably no one came to the Vermont Wilderness during 1760-90
entirely free from some
"standing order" religious motive.

p86 "However, even the Mayflower in 1620
Planters came to New England,
rather than to Guiana or Virginia
To fish for cod and to get their living thereby, as well as escape from religious oppression

84 "The toiling of many in Connecticut and Massachusetts who ran into debt at the close of the wars in 1763 and 1783, caused the planting of the wilderness
in New Hampshire and Vermont, beyond
what human wisdom could possibly have done.

William Carpenter was a native of Swanzey NH. but passed most of his childhood in Potsdam, St Lawrence Co NY, and subsequently resided some 12 years at Fort Covington Franklyn Co NY. His opinions were mature, outspoken and without the slightest deference to the times, His veneration for God and God's word was great; his love to man was universal, knowing nothing of time, place or condition. He served in the Rev. War 1776.

James Merrick was in Charlestown Mass in 1636. He was a fish-packer and cooper by trade, and found his place of business on the water front in Charlestown
In 1657 he moved to Newbury and became a farmer

Of this supposition that he was born in St Davids Pembrokeshire Wales is correct his choice of occupation is easily accounted for as St David depended entirely upon its fishing for the support of its population. The records of Charlestown show That "James Mirick, the cooper and mariner, his wife sold house and lot in Charlestown to John Andrews
The same records state that in 1676 "James Mirick age 52 years, in 1664 deeded to his son James, of Newbury land situated in Newbury. The date of his death is not given in the records but he died before his wife, who died in Newbury apr 2. 1708

Margaret Read belonged to an aristocratic family, and Thomas Harris must have been a man of good standing or he could not have married her.

John Lake descended from the Lakes of Normanton, Yorkshire, who claimed descent through the Cottons from the Albinis Earls of Arundel and Sussex from the Counts of Louraine (the right line of Charlemagne), and from William the Conqueror.

In 1668 Richard Risley[12] and his wife were admitted to full communion in the 1st Church of Hartford. In 1688 there is a record there that they had children baptized in this church, but only Two are found. Richard and his wife resided on the east side of the "great River" south of the Hockanum river both of which rivers had to be crossed by boats to attend church services.

Richard was a man of prominence in Hockanum for more than three quarters of a century, owning a large amount of real estate on which houses and farm buildings were erected. Freeman 1669; Fence Viewer 1687, 1692, 1694 1695, 1697. He was an original proprietor of lands on the east side of the "Great River.

a careful study of the references cited and others disclose differences of opinion as to Thomas[10] above, and his line to the "Widow Loveland"
However, Thomas[10] resided as early as 1670, in that part of Wethersfield now Glastenbury, and was listed as freeman there in 1690. He was a useful citizen with a distinguished family.

His grandmother was, very likely, the "Widow Loveland"[11,12] and interesting situation which is receiving careful thought.

Wiswall

1

Wiswall, Capt Noah (Elder Thomas

at death of his Father he inherited part of the original Grant of land which was held in severalty by the Thomas and grandson Noah.

Capt of Militia and on Dec 24 1676 Record Credit for services in King Phillips War.

Chosen on Committee to settle Boundary line between Cambridge and Newton, July 27. 1677.

at session of Gen Ct commencing May 8 1678, a petition was presented signed by Capt Noah Wiswall and others, asking for a separate township from Cambridge.

at a town meeting held on this 30th of Jan 1681-2 it was voted that Serg. John Ward and Noah Wiswall should commence a new record Book and copy all that was of Moment from the old book.

Selectmen 1685, Assessor 1686.

In 1687, Sergt John Ward were joined to the Selectmen to treat with the Selectmen of Cambridge to lay out a highway from the meeting house, through the lands of the Cambridge proprietors to the Falls

In 1688 chosen one of a committee by the inhabitants to join the Selectmen to make a rate for the Ministers

Number of male settlers in Newton found upon records in year 1690 was 54. ~~Of these twelve had died, but~~ They left many descendants.

all those of military age were trained in the Col Militia and served at various times in the different Indian outbreaks, which, of course were expected on their early alongth Atlantic coast settlement.

Capt Noah Wiswall had command of a militia Co., and lost his life in an engagement in the "Wiles Indian wars".

The original order to prepare for this engagement was dated Charlestown Nov 1688, to the Constables of Charlestown, to the repair of all arms for use of them in his majesties Service under command of Capt Noah Wiswall, and when the order finally came a year and a half later, to take up arms against the Treacherous Indians who were devastating our frontier settlements, they were prepared to perform their duties

The Company was mustered under Lieut Newton. Leaving his farm & some his hundredacres to the guidance of his wife and children, his sons and six daughters, most of them of tender age, the parting must have been a lingering one.

Capt Noah Wiswall, accompanied by his son John; set out on the fatal expedition with his company, and during a fierce battle both among those who lost their lives were Capt Noah Wiswall and his son John.

The early history of our country is filled with events such as this portrayed. The present generation are now reaping the benefit of the heroism and sacrifices made by the pioneers of our country. The sufferings & dangers undergone by our forefathers should prove to be a lesson for succeeding generations

The Pedigree of William Griffith
John Griffith
Griffith Griffiths
of the Parish of Llanddewi Brefi
in the County of Cardigan
South Wales Great Britain
who removed to the County of Chester Penn. in the early part of XVIII Century

The work undertaken to trace commenced in 1681-2, the first arrivals
coming immediately from North Wales
and constituted one of the most progressive
as well as one of the most prosperous elements in the Province. A number of these settlers subscribed the earliest records principally members of the Society of Friends, were called to attend
the circumstances connected with their removal and also their standing for several generations.

~~The fate~~

It appears that in 1690 depredations were perpetrated by the French & Indians in the eastern part of Mass Maine, and New Hampshire. In the beginning of May, about five hundred French & Indians men discovered known Casco (Portland) Casco was attacked, and Maj Davis carried captive to Canada.

Capt Noah Wiswall, Lt Gershom Flagg and Ensign Edward Walker, with a company of Infantry marched for the security of Casco. They arrived at Portsmouth July 4 where a court was called. It was agreed to Send Capt Wiswall to scour the woods as far as Casco, with one other Capt and four sergeants. Several Captains desired to go with Capt Wiswall and their cast lots to know who should go, and the lot fell to Capt Floyd, Lt Davis and 22 men from Wells joined them. They took up their march from Cocheco into the woods on July 6 1690 Capt Wiswall sent out his scouts early in the morning found the trail of the enemy overtook them at Wheelwrights pond and a bloody engagement followed. Capt Wiswall Lt Flagg, Sergt Walker and 15 men were slain, and others wounded.

Noahs estate was appraised by Capt Thomas Pentico James Trowbridge and Ebenezer Wiswall.

Inv. £437. 7s.

His son Thomas bought out the other heirs and took the homestead in 1698, and founded the Wiswall Wills in 1703.
